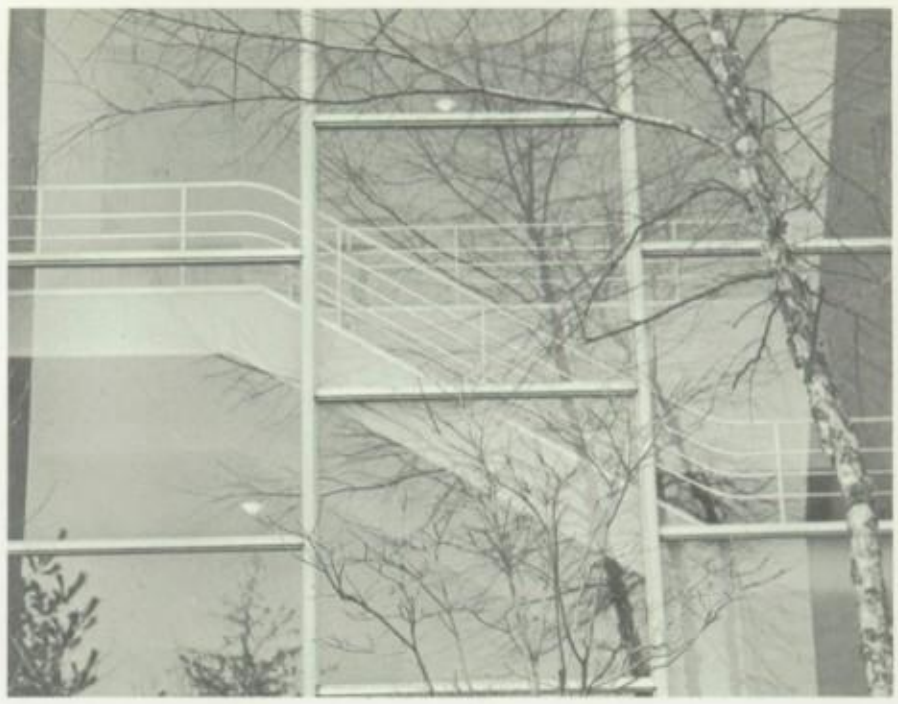
I have seen classes come and go; I have seen children grow into young men and women. I have been their guiding light throughout the years, always aiming at perfected goals. I have presided over all their activities, allowing my light to direct them and my warmth to comfort them. I stand by in the glory of success and in the despair of failure, always waiting for others to take me up and rekindle my flame. I am forever ready to serve that school which I represent and those whose outstretched hands beseech that I should once again glow brightly. I am the strength and the hope of a school whose students have added to my power year after year until I have become the most brilliant flame of all.

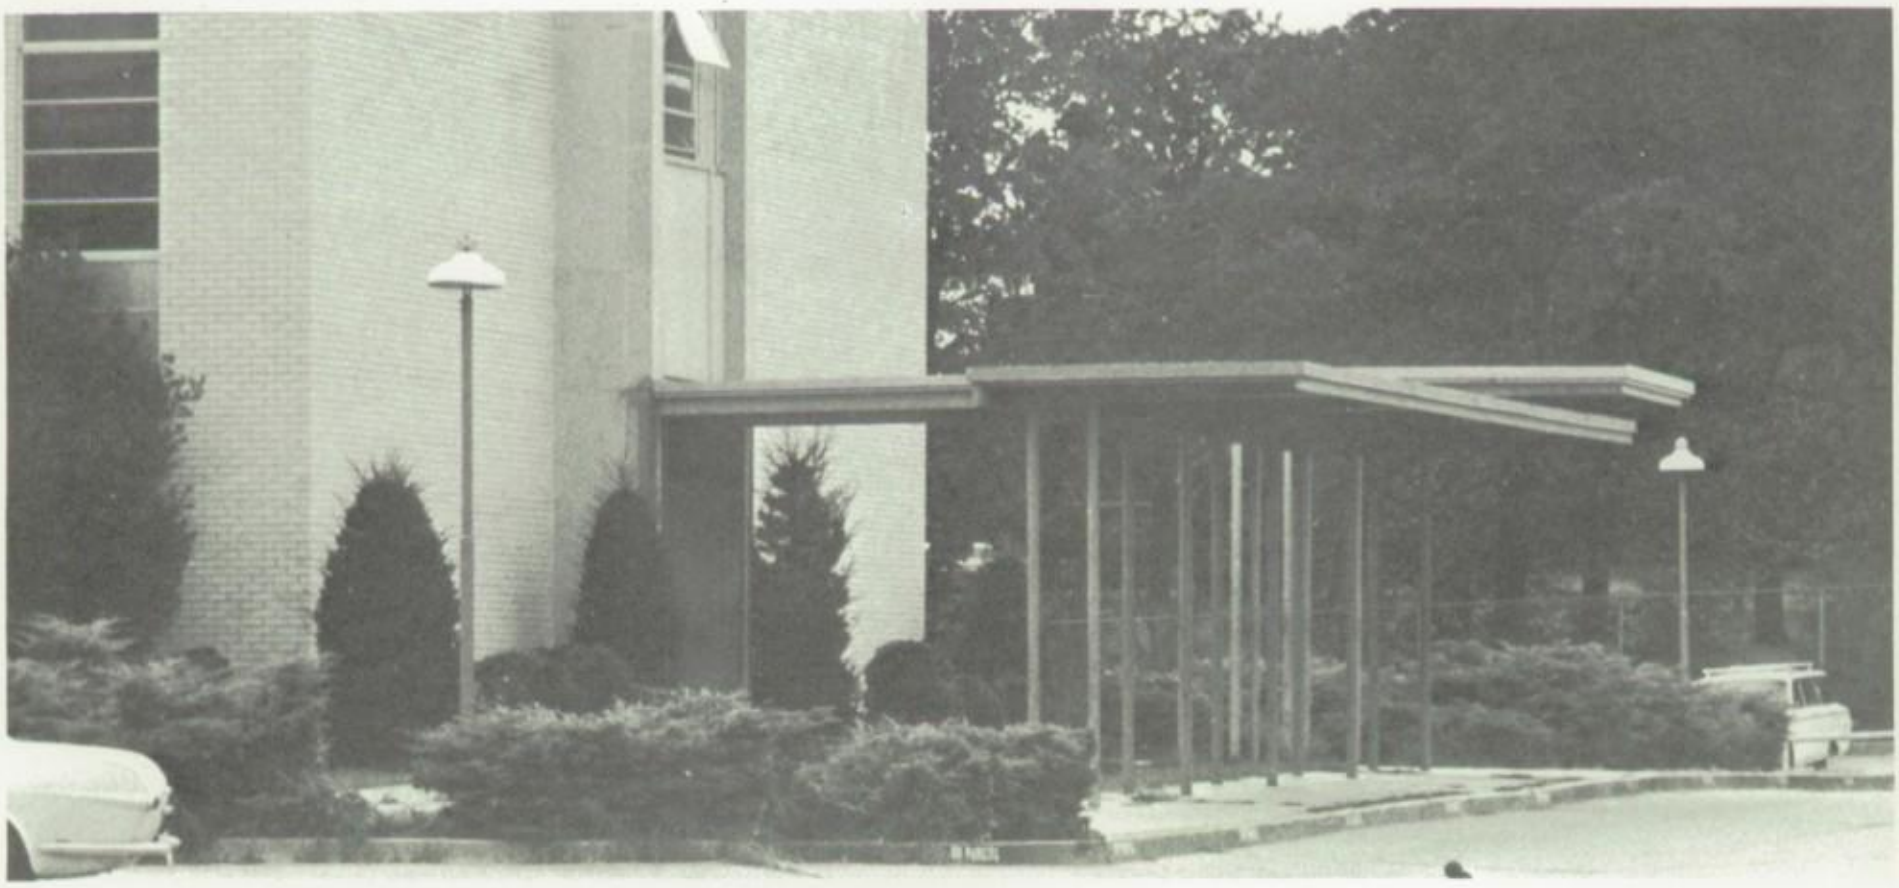
The closed windows of the new wing show those people outside that the air-conditioning is on.



The many stairways of Edison are traveled numerous times daily by energetic students in their pursuit of knowledge.

Edison students take

Since 1955, when Edison Junior High was opened, and 1957, when the senior high was formally dedicated, Edison has become a school of unprecedented accomplishments. In its twelfth year, the total enrollment was 3,067. The addition of a twenty-five room wing has provided students with an opportunity to prepare themselves for further education. In addition to this academic expansion, Edison's beautiful forty-acre campus has provided the location for many activities—civic, athletic, and cultural. Because of its excellent facilities and its students' outstanding performance, Edison has become a leader in the community.



The dark green hue of the evergreen trees makes a beautiful contrast with the buff brick of Edison High School all the year 'round.

Decorations for the Edison-Memorial game adorn a hallway in the new wing and mirror our school spirit.

The open doors of the senior high school symbolize the friendliness of Edison students.

Regardless of their surroundings, the Torch staff is always ready to meet a deadline. Members are Barbara Romero, Sharon Andress, Vicki McNickle, Cindy Piland, Lynn Moore, Nancy Pratt, David Petta, Steve Ogier, Jean Wright, Bill McKee, Betty Sipes, Arthur Fox, Raymond Rose, Stan Symanski, Brent Davis, Dorothy Spleth, and Chris Cramer. Standing is Mr. Jim Smith, sponsor.

Kay Bogle realizes the importance of energetic study during her senior year at Edison.

When a dedicated and stimulating faculty is combined with a student body eager to learn and willing to work, the result is a record of consistent academic excellence. Our teachers are well-grounded and deeply interested in their fields, and their enthusiasm is contagious. From them, the student gains not only facts but knowledge, and understanding as well as information. Textbook material is richly supplemented by lectures and further exploration in class discussion; thus faculty-student contacts are close, and all learn from one another. Edison students have always compiled an enviable record of academic achievement.

On a hot summer afternoon, nearby Keystone Lake provides a cool retreat for Loni Sumpter, Randy Purdy, Ken Shoemaker, Julie Johnson, Danny Hoar, Bill White, Marina Wienecke, and Gerry Palmer.

Eeva Toivio and Ulric Willers, Edison's foreign exchange students, were enthusiastically welcomed by their American classmates.

Athletic events, pep rallies, decorating contests, mixers and dances, the expanded foreign exchange program, and homeroom, class, and club functions of all kinds represent only a few of the students' opportunities for fun, growth, and the development of lasting friendships. Although learning is the students' main objective, no academic year would be complete without activities designed to ease the strain of mental exertion. Within the scope and diversification of these activities, Edisonites may become well-rounded students who contribute significantly both to their personal goals and to their school.

The foreign exchange reception in September not only gave seniors a chance to meet Eeva and Ulric, but also to learn of each other's summer experiences.

Marti York reads an amusing passage to her advanced speech class.

Such courses as Stage Band, drama, and art give students a chance to find their real talents. The Concert Chorus is one of the best examples of the transformation of individual talents into a unified effort. United by the beautiful melodies they sing, the members work not only for individual pleasure, but for the recognition which comes to their group. By fitting our efforts in the entire accomplishment, we know that we have further advanced the spirit and tradition of Edison High.

There are talents which bring us great pleasure.

Administration

Our principal, Mr. Lewis Cleveland, is a familiar figure in the halls and classrooms of Edison. Much more than an able administrator, he is deeply concerned with students as individuals. He is always receptive to new ideas and is willing to experiment with new methods and techniques, if they seem likely to improve the educative processes of Edison. His years as principal have been years of progress for the school, and Edison has gained national recognition for academic achievement.

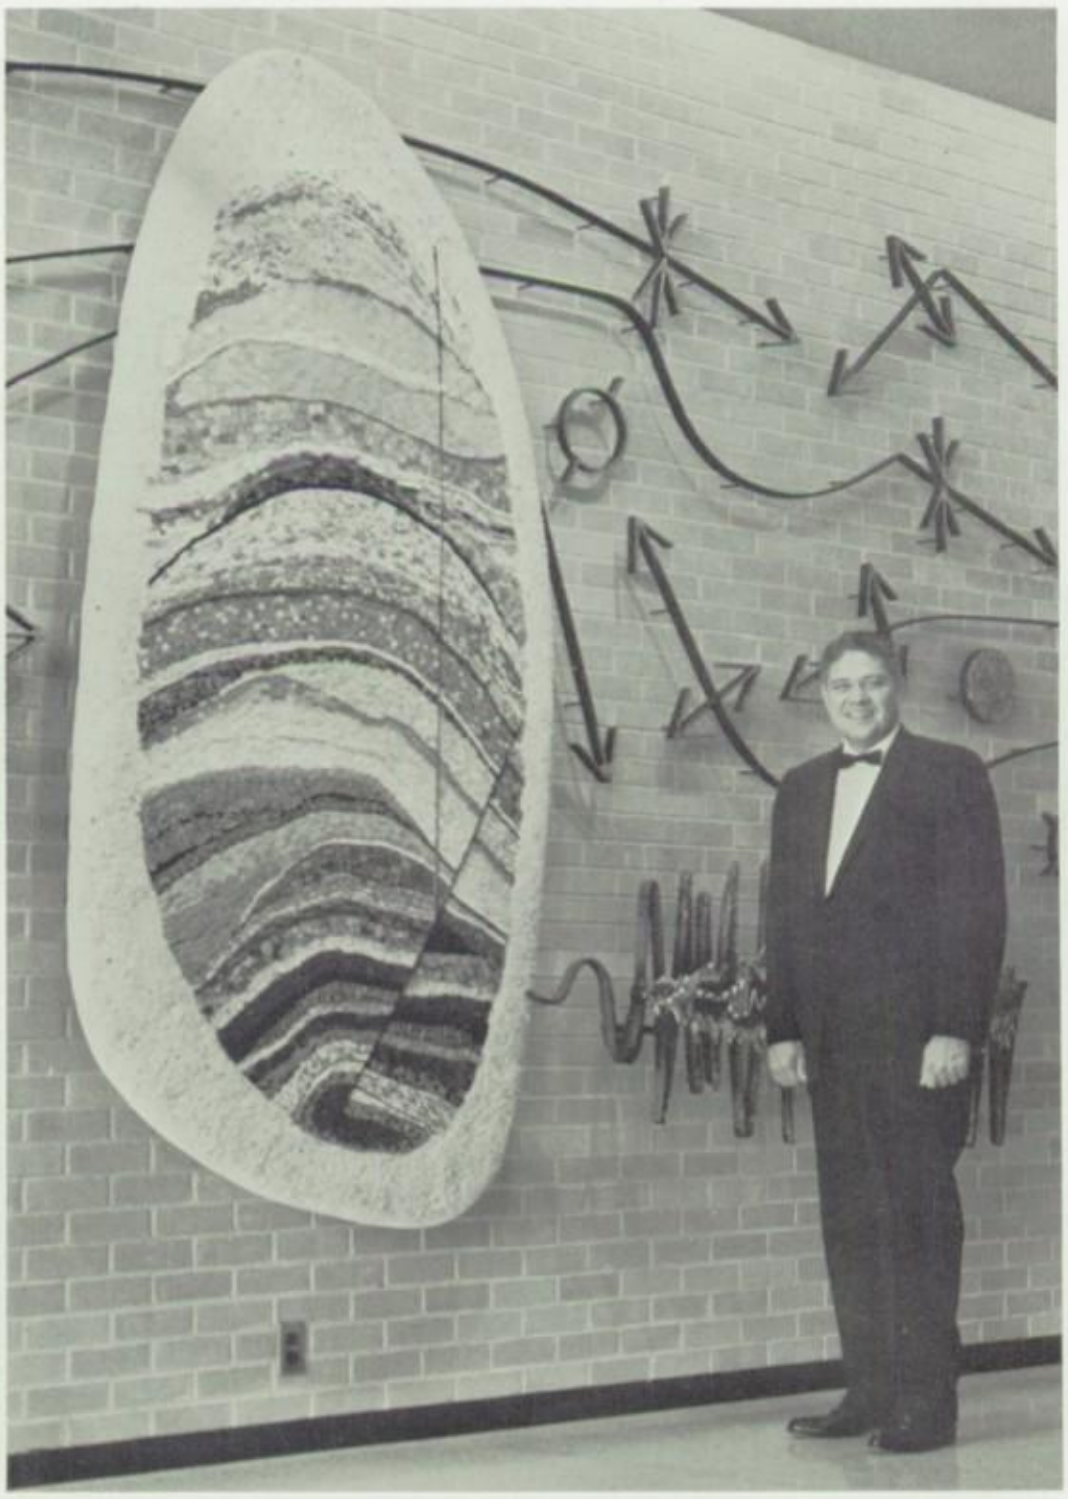
Mr. Cleveland is a prominent figure in community affairs, having served as vice-president of the Southside Rotary Club and as president of the Secondary School Principals' Association. A member of Phi Delta Kappa, he has been an active participant in the work of the Oklahoma Education Association and the National Education Association. His leadership abilities have been recognized by his church, which he has served in many capacities. As a good citizen, Mr. Cleveland ranks high, because he accepts responsibility and performs admirably.

Students at Edison recognize Mr. Cleveland as a genuine friend. His belief in freedom with responsibilities has produced an atmosphere conducive to development of true democratic concepts.

We at Edison strongly believe Mr. Cleveland has more than earned the deep respect we offer him. We may say of our principal what he, with great pride, has so often said of us: that he, in every sense of the word, is "another Edison 'first'."

Always behind Mr. Cleveland is his staunchest supporter, his wife, Elizabeth.

Our principal willingly counsels several senior boys.



Mr. Cleveland takes a moment from his busy schedule to pose near the fresco at the Sinclair Research Laboratory.

Dr. Charles C. Mason
Superintendent

Dr. Charles C. Mason, who has served as Superintendent of the Tulsa Public Schools since 1944, has, through diligent and efficient service, raised the Tulsa schools to a new standard of excellence. For the last twelve years, Dr. Mason has accepted for the Tulsa schools the National Freedom Foundation Award for the teaching of citizenship and democracy in the schools. Ninety-nine schools and over 77,000 students are under his supervision. Besides his excellent work as chief administrator of the Tulsa school system, Dr. Mason also acts as executive officer of the Tulsa Board of Education.

Tulsa's Board of Education is composed of seven members, elected for three-year terms to establish and carry out school policies. These members are civic-minded citizens who further the aims of education and serve without remuneration. Keeping the curriculum of the schools up-to-date is one of the Board's many duties. It also strives to coordinate the schools and keep them working toward common goals. It is constantly in contact with hundreds of school administrators and representatives, yet it manages to keep a personal touch as it guides the students of public schools to greater achievement.

The Education Service Center, located at 31st and New Haven, is a modern structure promoting modern education.

Adult education for the welfare of children and youth is the purpose of the Parent-Teacher Association. This national organization was founded in 1897 and now has a membership of over 12,000,000 working for the betterment of education. The P-TA at Edison serves as the public relations medium for the school and strives to coordinate its activities with those of surrounding schools.

Guidance counselors assist each student in selecting a high school curriculum, a major field of study, and a university best fitted to his personality, interests, and capabilities. They are sincerely interested in the personal problems of students, and work long hours to guide each one individually.

Because economic stability is an important part of national growth, individual businesses must be managed efficiently by well-trained personnel. At Edison, the future businessman has the opportunity to learn the skills necessary for the effective management of an enterprise.

At Edison, the study of a foreign language is more than just repeating and memorizing words. Through tape recordings, records, and films, the student becomes familiar with the language and acquires an understanding of its enunciation, pronunciation and intonation.

Margaret Hill, office machines teacher, assists Jan Walker with her computations.

With the aid of a tape recorder, Sandra Griffin, junior high French teacher, helps Amy Clark and Jim Rodgers learn French pronunciation.

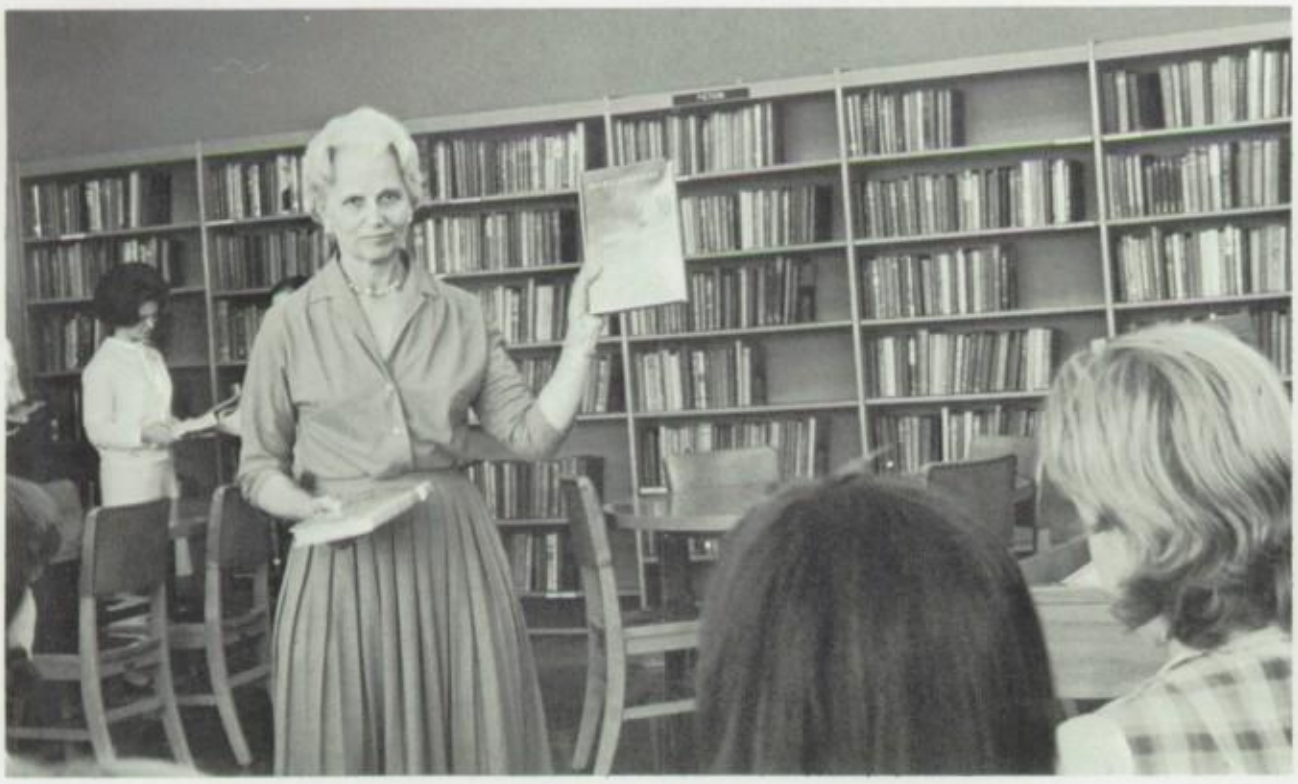
Catherine Earl, geography teacher, uses models to demonstrate to her students the early methods of travel.

Team teaching at Edison is being practiced by Larry Keating in sophomore history classes.

Informality adds zest to Martha Cole's humanities course, an addition to the Edison curriculum this year.

This year, the English department expanded to include a humanities course for juniors. All who participated in this experience were extremely proud of the results. Besides rhetoric and writing, the English department offered an analytical study of classical and contemporary literature.

In all the social studies courses, reasons why events occurred and why leaders emerged were emphasized, rather than just names and dates. Individual research and group discussion gave new meaning to the events which established the foundations for our present civilization.



Miss Boatright, the junior high librarian, reviews a scintillating new novel for her students.

Mrs. McDonald finds amusement in the reports given by her English students.

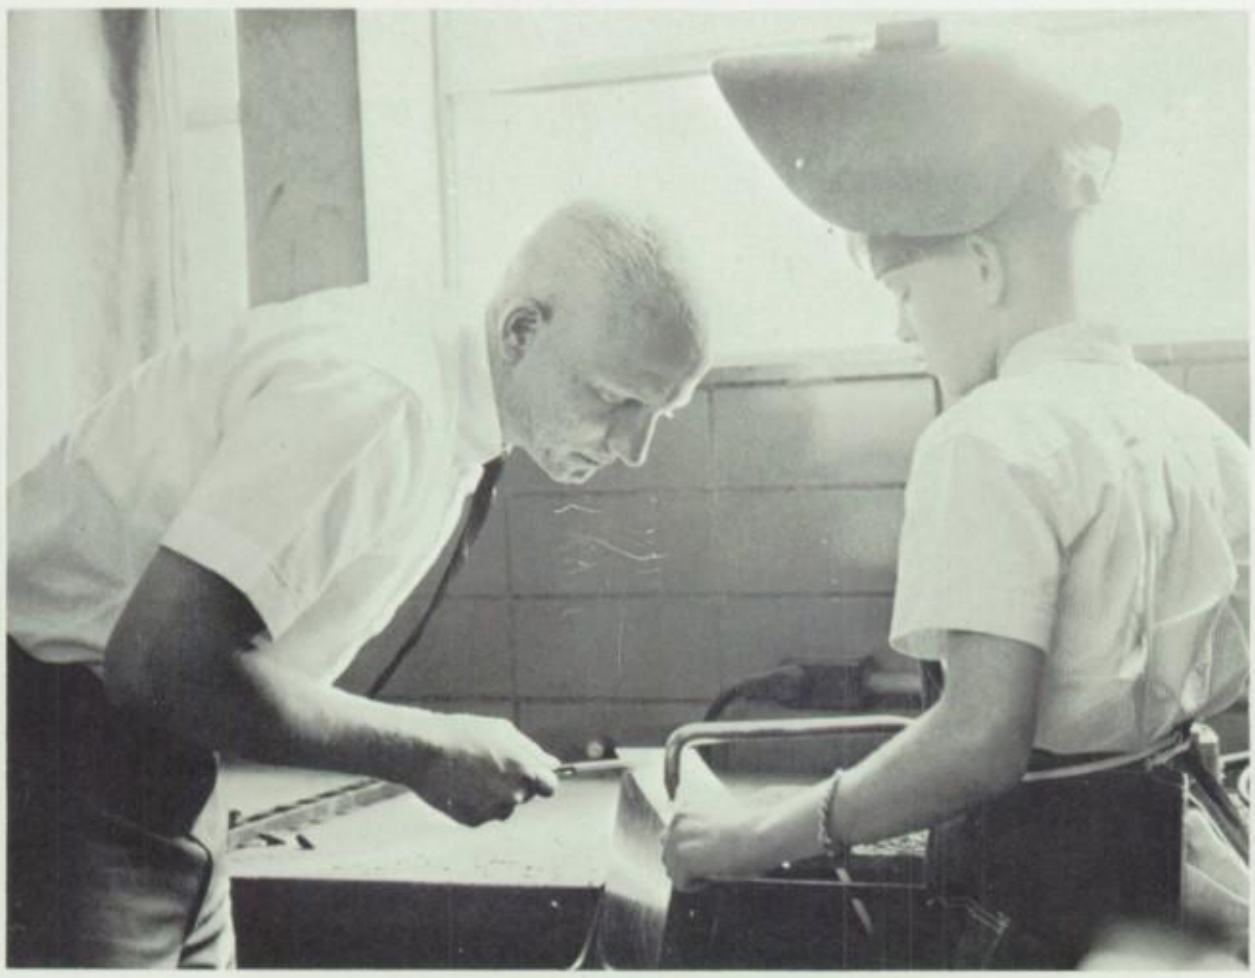
Frances Smith demonstrates to Sandy Winters a technique used in making French seams.

John Palmer and Mike Ives listen attentively as Bill McPeters points out the many intricacies of an automobile engine.

Because cybernation has eliminated many job opportunities for the unskilled laborer, it has become important for a craftsman to be well prepared for his vocation. Before he can expect success, he must develop dexterity and skill. He must be well-trained to use his skills effectively. He must take courses which emphasize the use of his practical skills.

Skills necessary for effective homemaking may be acquired by vigorous application of techniques stressed in the home economics department at Edison. Training in clothing, foods, interior decorating, health, consumer buying, child care, and management of time, money, and energy is emphasized by the excellent instructors of the department.

Cooperation sparks loyalty.



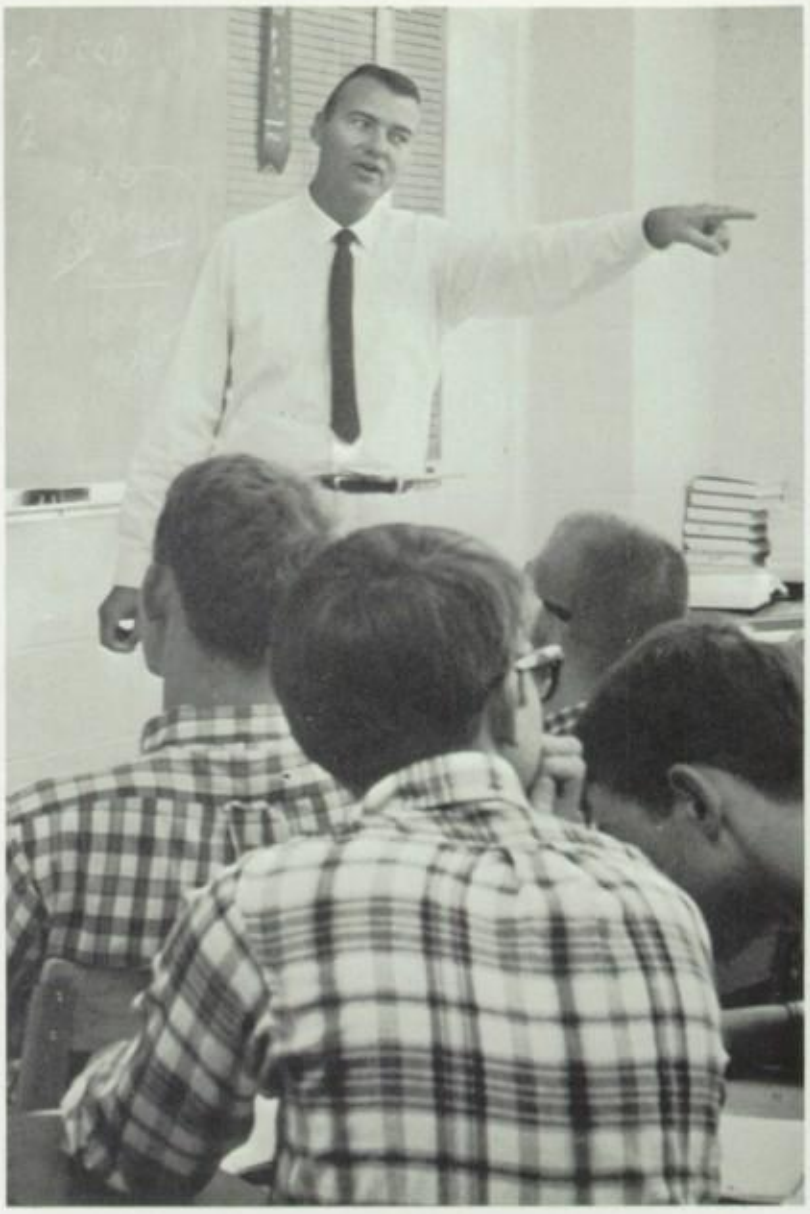
George Collins checks the welded surface of a beginning student.

Harvey Parks, in homeroom attire, assists Barb Sear with her drafting.

Charlotte Imel, well-liked biology instructor, makes good use of the fine microscopic equipment available.

Through the medium of mathematics, man is better able to understand the mysteries which once puzzled him. Mathematical concepts have enabled him to explain the essence of life and to broaden his understanding of the universe. To teach these concepts, Edison offers courses in the basics, as well as algebra, geometry, trigonometry and calculus.

Chemistry students were introduced to new and better laboratory equipment in the new wing this year, and many science classes began using new textbooks which stress the modern approach to fundamental scientific concepts. The science program at Edison includes courses in biology, chemistry, physiology, physics, and earth science. This variety of courses provides for the student a sound background of scientific knowledge.



Jack Dobelbower tests the minds of the cleverest students in his advanced math classes.

Originality stimulates.

Mary Ann Thompson points out to her students various types of fish found in her classroom aquarium.

Jim Belt helps a student solve a pressing problem.

Mr. Gideon, art teacher, assists students with their bubble-gum-sugar cube house.

Mrs. Donahue's wistful gaze helps tell the story which she is relating to speech students.

Dave Crowell works industriously in preparation for the senior class play.

Because oral expression is the principal means of communication, the speech department at Edison strives to train the student to communicate effectively and meaningfully. Debates, plays, assemblies and skits are tools with which the speech student improves his skill. Stagecraft and audio-visual classes provide background for those who perform on stage.

Edison's fine arts program offers the student an opportunity to receive specialized training. He may develop the fundamental skills of artistic design through the basic program. For the advanced student, courses in the related arts provide the experiences which are important for successful artistic understanding and creativity.

Louise Todd suggests to Karen Crawford a new approach to still life.

Edison's Foreign Exchange

The Foreign Exchange Program for last year was the greatest in Edison's history. Eleven Edison students went abroad on a variety of programs. Five students, Candy Borland, Cheri Brashear, Janine Henshaw, Terri Lee, and Debbie Ross, went to France. During the summer, Don Brown visited England, while Mike Solow went to Germany. Edison's Gail Groom spent six months in Germany and Merry Ellen Evans went to Norway for six months. Returning in January after a year in South Africa was George Singer. In the fall, Edison welcomed Eeva Toivio from Helsinki, Finland, and Ulric Willers from Stockholm, Sweden. Eeva, a junior, lived with her American "sister," Shelia Williams. Ulric, a senior, made his home with Richard Schermerhorn.

George Singer, Candy Borland, Patti Luttgen, and Don Brown relate their experiences in foreign countries.

Merry Ellen Evans, Mike Solow, and Gail Groom bear happy expressions as they remember their experiences abroad.

Edison Week

Edison Week was a tremendous success! School Spirit Day was highlighted by the release of numerous green and white balloons under the direction of Bettie Donkin. On Teacher Appreciation Day, led by Mary Lou Mungen, the movie "Stalag 17" was shown. Sandy Winters, chairman of Brotherhood Day, arranged for Governor Bellmon to appear as guest speaker. Scholarship Day featured the Gridiron Talent Show which was arranged by Melissa Potter and emceed by Kirk VanValkenburgh. Friday was Thomas Edison Day, and a birthday cake was presented to the student body. At a special assembly, the Student Superlatives were announced, and Mr. Edison VI, Bill Holway, was crowned. Diana Donkin was chairman for this final day.

Flippy Wonder tells Pudgy Roulette to get out of her life.

Throughout the years, Edison has had numerous activities to offer its students. Its assortment of clubs appealed to its variety of students. Each interested student was able to find at least one club or activity in which to participate, though most students joined several organizations.

It was through these activities that students became acquainted with the true Edison High School. Again this year, Edison was not just a concrete and steel structure of learning. It was more. It was the good times the students had there, it was the life-long friendships that began there, and it was the learning that was gained there. All these things made and will make the name of Thomas Alva Edison High School dear to its students' hearts forever.

The creation of a superior yearbook, such as Edison's Torch, is a complex process involving many hours of planning and discussion, argument and compromise. In the past year, the Journalism staff consistently contributed newsworthy articles to the Tulsa School Life and Southside Times, and in addition began an Edison paper, the Thomas Times. The Times premiered February 4, and proved itself to be an informative, refreshing student publication. Ironically, this success has been negotiated under the auspices of Genny Cowan, the first editor to serve while a junior, as well as Mr. Smith, journalism sponsor. Assisting them were Becky Graves and John Eliot, copy editors; Ken Brendle, Bob Lyon, and Dave Roberts, sports editors; Barbara Bauder, Regina Boner, Jo Karen Bouteller, Carolyn Cross, Georgia Martin, and Rhonda Thornton, reporters; and journalism staff photographer Doug Day.

Talented singers and musicians

Members devote much of their extra time to practices.

Under the direction of Mr. Laven Sowell, the Concert Chorus has attained an acme of perfection in choral productions. Both their Spring and Fall concerts were tremendous successes. They also gave guest concerts at O.U. and at T.U. Their participation in the opera Hansel and Gretal merited much praise. In March they traveled, expenses paid, to Houston to deliver another magnificent performance. This superior quality is in keeping with the tradition of Edison.

Mr. Sowell generously devotes much of his time to the Concert Chorus.

Trumpeters follow their music closely during a recording session.

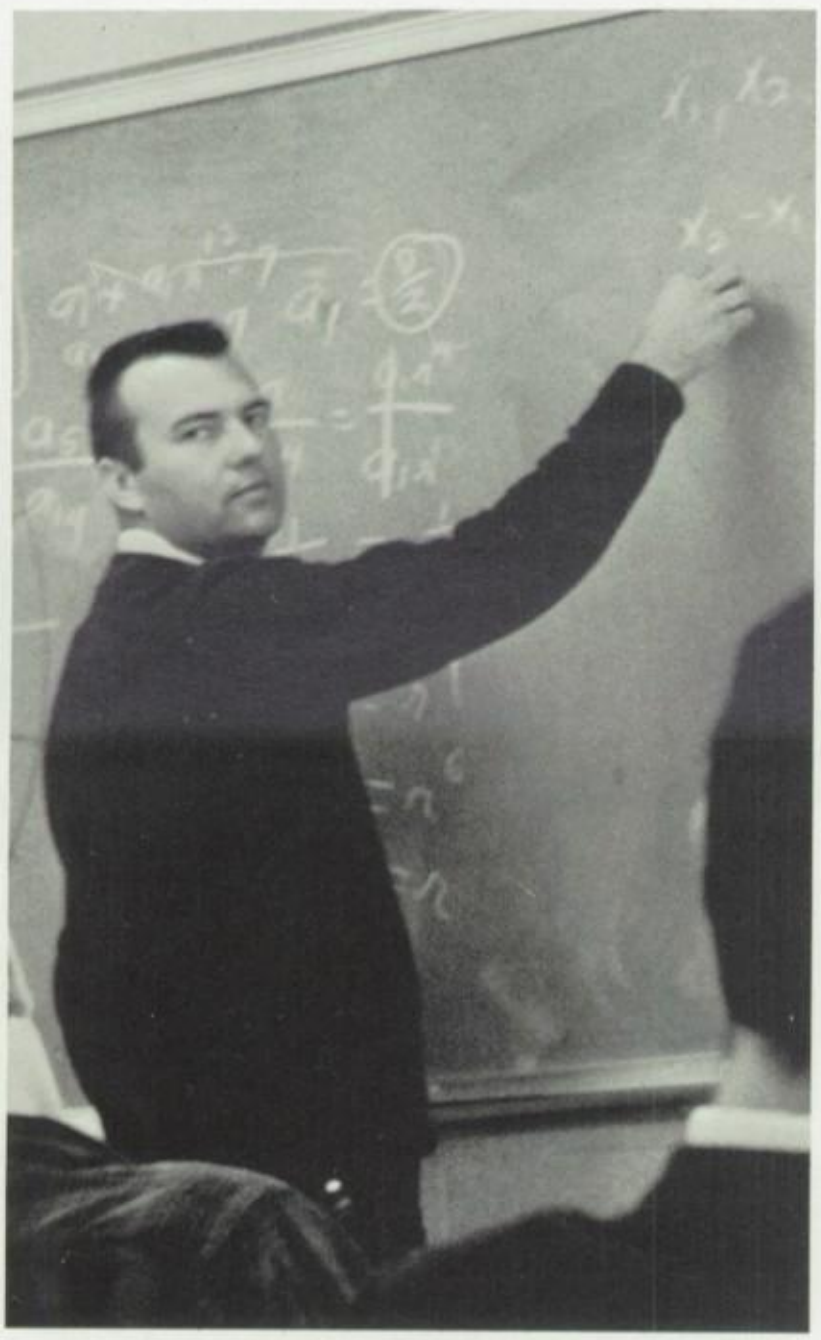
Roger Boesche, Kirk VanValkenburgh, Jeanne Heuser, and Greta Minsky take time out to admire Edison Callings and Guiding Lights, Student Council publications.

Student Council



Mr. Jack Dobelbower, Student Council sponsor, is also the head of Edison's Math Department.

Bill Strong and Jim Taylor, co-chairmen of Edison Week, discuss plans with the chairman of each day as they prepare for Edison Week.

Under the leadership of its officers, this year's Student Council made tremendous strides in achievement. Its efforts have benefited the entire student body, and a brighter spirit of pride and loyalty in the students toward their school has been fostered. Student Council provides a means for the expression of student opinion through the representative system that it employs. School spirit and unity have been provided through its efforts, as shown by participation of the students in the activities it supports. A school record of 28,000 cans was established in the Salvation Army Canned Goods Drive. Because of the efforts of the council, hungry students were provided with breakfast, crepe paper was available for decorating contests, music was played during lunch, a bulletin board was provided for student notices, cars were registered, and the Edison Callings were on sale on the first day of school.

Officers of the 1965-66 STUDENT COUNCIL are: Kirk VanValkenburgh, vice-president; Greta Minsky, secretary; Jeanne Heuser, treasurer; and Roger Boesche, president.

Jerry Bob Lee and Amy Clark give Mrs. Salter coffee for Teacher Appreciation Day.

The purpose of the Junior High Student Council is to promote leadership, scholarship, and citizenship. It was composed of representatives from the seventh, eighth, and ninth grade students. It gave the students a voice in their school government, and created school spirit and loyalty.

This year, the Student Council gave a tea for Teacher Appreciation Day during Education Week. During Brotherhood Week, the Council had a Brotherhood Breakfast, inviting all students. At Christmas, it bought and trimmed a tree to decorate the school. To raise funds, it sold Edison pens and the Junior High Edison Calling.

The Student Council accomplished much this year with the aid of its capable sponsor, Mr. Gerard.

give services to community.

Officers of K-CLUB are Seated: Craig Lubin, president; Randy Cohen, vice president; Standing: Chris Teeter, secretary; Phil Eller, treasurer.

The members of K-Club are outstanding ninth-grade boys with leadership abilities. They work for the betterment of Edison Junior High and for the community. They are sponsored by the Utica Square Kiwanis Club. Their advisor this year was Mr. Glennis Miller.

This past year, K-Club members sold tickets to the annual Kiwanis Club Pancake Breakfast. Closely associated with the Key Club, this was a joint project made successful by the combined efforts of both clubs. Its members also efficiently operated a lost and found for the student body. As a money raising project, the K-Club challenged the faculty in a basketball game. The club was a benefit to both faculty and students.

Earl Peeples, Phil Eller, Craig Lubin, and Chris Teter practice for the K-Club-Faculty basketball game.

Officers of USHERETTES are Nancy Pratt, historian; Carol Ann Haden, secretary-treasurer; Ginny Aubrey, vice-president; Loni Sumpter, president.

Begun in 1959 as a school service organization, Usherettes extended its services to the community with its membership growing from twelve girls in its first year to the forty-two outstanding seniors comprising its roster during the '65-'66 school year. Members participated in such notable endeavors as "Project Headstart", devoting many hours of work to helping the less fortunate. Other activities included ushering at the Tulsa Little Theater, senior commencement and vespers, school plays and Back-to-School Night. Dr. Sarah Burkhart, sponsor, provided the guidance that led the club to its place as one of Edison's foremost organizations, serving the best interests of the school and the community.

benefit Edison.

The Edison Key Club was created to help students realize their leadership potential through school and community service. Co-sponsors Jim Smith and Bob Caldwell directed the energies of the club, which, in co-ordination with Usherettes, provided ushers for all school productions, and the group participated in many charity drives. Lucy Murray was chosen as sweetheart at the annual Key Club dance.

Language clubs

The purpose of the French Club is to promote an interest in the French language and culture. Its sponsor, Helen Carney, has worked long and hard to provide the casual atmosphere in which many enjoyable and stimulating programs have been presented.

This year has been particularly rich in projects and activities. Three of French Club's four officers travelled abroad during the summer months. Films and informal lectures enriched many of the monthly meetings. The highlight of the group's work came in January when French Club presented "Discothèque", in the typically congenial French style.

Cheri Brashear, Terri Lee and Janine Henshaw discuss plans for French Club's upcoming discothèque.

Since the Lettermen's Club was reactivated in 1964, Bill White, working with sponsor Gene Shell, contributed to the club's enthusiasm. To co-ordinate the various fields of athletics, Lettermen's Club this year introduced a newspaper, Action, covering each sport represented at Edison. Profits from this newspaper were used for the annual Lettermen's Club Banquet, honoring the diverse Athletes of the Month and the club's highest honor, Athlete of the Year.

Since its organization in 1958, Thespian Troupe 14 has promoted standards of excellence in all phases of the Dramatic Arts. Under the direction of Miss Barbara Burket, the troupe has presented Speech Arts plays and a "Scenes Night." Membership is comprised of diligent students who have devoted many hours to the production of plays, assemblies and other thespic activities at Edison.

This year Edison's Thespians have been sponsors in bringing the National Shakespearean Players to Tulsa. This cultural contribution is the first of its kind ever presented in Oklahoma.

Edison's first pep club was organized in 1955 for the purpose of promoting school spirit. In 1957, "Talons" was chosen as the name for the pep club, and a regulation outfit of a kelly green skirt and the letter "E" on a white V-neck sweater was selected. This year, Talons, co-sponsored by Saundra Rosenbum and Marcia Berry, sponsored bus trips for out-of-town football games, sold ribbons, green-and-white pompoms and charms, made posters and signs for the halls and showcases, sponsored decorating contests, pep rallies and mixers. Skits were presented at the morning meetings. During these meetings, boys participating in the various sports were honored with poems, good luck charms and cheers. Every Monday morning, following a victory the week before, the "victory flag" was raised.

Swimming formations such as this symmetrical design highlight the group's performance.

Swimettes, organized in 1954 by Pat Houston, its present sponsor, strives to encourage an interest in synchronized swimming and water ballet. Each year, tryouts are held in both spring and fall, with a workshop for new members in the spring. In May, a picnic honoring new members is held. Swimettes, originally composed of fifteen girls, now has a membership of thirty-nine.

This year's water show, consisting of 11 acts and a finale, was presented March 2-5, and followed the theme of Pinocchio.

Members of the High School Red Cross, in serving their country, community, and school, strive to ameliorate some of the exigent problems confronting our society today. This year, activities of the club included sending gifts to the soldiers and children in South Vietnam, presenting talent shows at the Veterans Hospitals and County Farm, and sponsoring the annual Red Cross drive. The club's industrious sponsor, Miss Parish, who dedicated much time and energy to assist the members with their many service projects, deserves much of the credit for their success.

Aquillas was a service organization sponsored by Mrs. Zoe White. It has been serving Edison Junior High for the past seven years. Aquilla Club was composed of outstanding ninth grade girls. The girls who led this organization were president, Pamela Wilson; secretary, Lindsay Patterson; treasurer, Kathie Mungen; bulletin chairman, Patty Tessier; program chairman, Ruth Shapiro; service chairman, Jan Patterson.

They served Edison in various ways: by working in the library, the main office; counselor's office, and the nurse's office. Aquillas ushered at school functions and helped teachers upon request.

This year, Aquillas bettered Edison by ushering at a variety of school events and guiding at Back-to-School Night.

Office assistants and Office assistants played an important role in the effective operation of the mechanical and clerical aspects of Edison. These students, both girls and boys, worked in all of the offices, the school bank, and the library for one period each day. The responsibilities they assumed varied from running errands to counting money to keeping the library in order. The training which these jobs provided gave the assistants some idea of the discipline required in similar jobs in the business world. However, this area of student participation did not relate directly to the business education department; rather, it was a type of school service which the student voluntarily performed for the good of his school.

LIBRARY ASSISTANTS are Row 1: Ann Archibald, Patty Ross, Ellen Alexander, Neilia Back, Cathy Conway; Row 2: Karen Moreland, Shelly Hodge, Memory Stunz, Diane Rabkin, Karen Zajic, John Koons, Sandra Adkins, J. Hi-Y provide service.

The Hi-Y Club at Edison, formed in the fall of 1964, began planning its activities for the coming year that summer. During a three week period, the members raised $500 to finance their future activities. Later, the club sent a delegate to the National Hi-Y assembly in Minnesota, participated in the Officer's Training Conference in Oklahoma City, and gave support to the Eastern District Fall Conference. Hi-Y has engaged in work projects such as making a workshop for the Gateway Foundation for retarded people. It has held a variety of social functions and helpful programs, including the Youth-in-Government program which provides participants with first-hand experience in democratic government. The club, along with other Hi-Y Clubs in Oklahoma, met for three days in conference rooms and Senate and House chambers of the Oklahoma State Legislature to discuss and vote on bills that they had written.

The International Relations Club, sponsored by Mr. McArthur, functions to encourage harmony and understanding among the peoples of the world by offering a means to systematic discussion of timely world topics. The highlight of its year's activities was a colorful debate on the subject, "What is the Good Society?" Active participation by its members has made the IRC an important part of Edison's outside activities.

Numerous interest clubs

Members of Edison's Debate Club strive to improve their ability to discuss controversial topics logically and effectively. During the school year, the organization debated with other high school debate clubs in the Tulsa area on this year's national debate topic, "Compulsory Arbitration." In a debate, the participant must be prepared to defend or attack the proposition. Cross-question debating, adopted by the Debate Club this year, was used at the Northeastern State Convention February 18-19.

Stagecraft helps in

Members of stagecraft build the scenery that is used for assemblies, plays and variety shows. It is also their task to operate the lighting, the sound, and the curtains during these productions. This work requires many extra hours of diligent effort. Under the direction of Mr. David Crowell, stagecraft members have helped to make many productions successful. As an example, this year's Senior Class play, Liliom, one of the largest productions in Edison's history, was successful because of the fine effort of stagecraft members. In addition to these other duties, stagecraft members set up equipment for instructional films in the classroom. They also provide aid in running movies that are held in the auditorium.

Advertising Board, organized in 1956, has finally emerged as a major organization at Edison this year. The purpose of this organization is to advertise all school functions and relate to the organizations of this school, as well as the student body, the ideal of efficiency through unity.

During the summer, the officers of Advertising Board finished and perfected the draft of a constitution which has served as a model for those of other Tulsa schools. Activities this year included the sale of Edison Plaques, the initiation of a school event calendar which was placed in a convenient display case, and publicized the Shakespearean players, who presented Macbeth, As You Like It, and Hamlet at Edison the 4th and 5th of February.

by new staff.

After a dismal 2-7 record in 1964, Edison's emerald-clad Eagles emerged as a local gridiron power under the guidance of new head coach, Richard Chapman. The Eagles returned to the ranks of respectability with a composite 4-5 season.

Coach Chapman, assisted by Don Phillips and Joe Kiger, led his team to a fine start in the All-City by defeating Hale 14-0. The next night, however, they lost to highly-regarded Rogers 13-0.

Edison had several heart-breaking losses to highly ranked state powers. The Eagles staved off the powerful attack of Rogers until the final minute of the contest when Rogers squeezed into the lead to stay. A disputed referee's call on McAlester's 6-inch line gave the game to the Buffaloes as the gun sounded.

The Eagles did know victories, too. Thrills were provided for the fans as Edison toppled McLain and Hale by scores of 14-12, 14-0. In the Ponca City game, Bob Nichols provided a show-time finish by racing 63 yards to the 3-yard line when the Eagles were trailing 0-3. The Eagles plainly out-fought Muskogee for four quarters as their offensive machine sparkled in a 34-22 victory in the final game.

Although many lettermen are graduating, a hard core of junior starters will return. The potential that Coach Chapman has to work with in the future promises the beginning of a new regime at Edison.

Strong B-Squad shows desire.

The Eagles' secondary football squad came through the 1965 season with a near-perfect record. The B-Squad lost only to Bartlesville as they compiled a 5-1-1 season. Among the Eagles' triumphs was a victory over arch-rival Rogers. Coached by Tom Langham, these sophomores fought Catoosa's A-Squad to a tie ball game. The tradition of Edison athletics seems secure next year with these boys rising to the varsity.

The perseverance and desire exhibited by these fledglings is not to be overlooked. Though considered unimportant by many, the B-Squad is actually a measuring stick for the next year's varsity. Again in 1966, the Edison Eagles should prove to be tough competitors.

Edison's cross-country Eagles were led this year by co-captains Steve Quinn and Steve Goad. This duo accounted for a one-two punch on Edison's junior and sophomore dominated squad. The only seniors were lettermen Pat Tarman and Bill White.

Quinn and Goad, both fantastic runners in their sophomore years, turned in even finer performances this year. Quinn was chosen third on the Oklahoma Seven Conference team and sixth on the All-State team.

The team took fourth place in the tough Oklahoma Seven conference race and sixth in the Edison Invitational.

Edison's roundballers continued on the comeback road this year, their second under coach Gene Shell. They started out with tremendous spirit and hustle, and quickly downed six of their first seven foes. They lost their first game to undefeated Webster by only two points, 65-63. Led by senior David Wagenblatt, who quickly set the scoring pace in the city with his performance in the Hale Tourney, the Eagle cagers sailed into the Oklahoma Seven Conference lead. Corky Sayles, another senior, stayed close behind Wagenblatt in scoring and was in the top five in the city. Junior Roger Gray, who had lettered as a sophomore, consistently hit the hoop for an average good enough to put him in the top ten. Senior letterman George Conger guarded the boards and contributed to Edison's fine offensive points which often decided the outcome.

Midway through the season, Edison's fortune darkened as Wagenblatt broke his nose in a game at Ponca City. He then played with a nose guard until forced to stop altogether by a cast on his leg. At the same time, Conger was incapacitated, leaving the Eagles short-handed. The crippled cagers fell into a tailspin after the Miami Tourney, losing four costly conference games. Sparked by Gray, who hit in the thirties in two consecutive games, the Eagles climbed back by winning their next three conference games. After winding up the regular season with Webster, the Eagles hosted the regional tournament and were matched against Memorial in the first round of the season's finale. Returning varsity members, Gray, Nichols, Hara, and Caldwell provide coaches Shell and Phillips with an opportunity to build an even better team next year.

HEAD COACH TOM LANGHAM

Coach Tom Langham led the Eagle mermen to another sparkling season. This year's well-balanced team came through with many victories that one with less depth could not have achieved. Reminiscent of past performances of Like and Farrell, Robert Rorschach's diving highlighted many a meet and inspired such second-half comebacks as the 55-40 victory over Hale. Sophomore standout Clint Wade and junior Bill Strong sparked many meets for the Eagles with double victories in freestyle events. Edison was the object of much controversy in the All-City, and, because of some unexpected setbacks, finished third. The Eagle tankers also finished a close third in State. Langham will not be faced with much of a rebuilding job next year, as many strong juniors and sophs will return.

Athletic Director Jimmy Sellers and Assistant Dennis Dutsch provided area wrestling fans with another winning team. Returning senior lettermen Steve Weichert, John Danner, and Rick Loveless, along with junior lettermen Mike Valant and Mike Coulson, constantly came through with victories to erase early deficits. Bixby transfer Scott Fenderson was the surprise of the season as he won ten straight matches after arriving at Edison at the semester mark. Tri-captain Steve Weichert compiled one of the finest records in the state by winning 20 matches without a loss. Edison made a fine showing during the season, losing only to Rogers, 17-15, and Hale, 17-16. They dropped regional champions Webster and highly-regarded McLain by identical scores, 17-16. Edison placed five wrestlers in the regional tournament, and finished second even though they forfeited three of the 12 weights and were deprived of Fenderson, who was not allowed to compete. Of the five who traveled to Edmond for the state tournament, Coulson and Loveless had already had experience in the state contests, placing third and fourth, respectively, last year. With many sophomores and juniors returning next year, Edison's wrestling tradition is sure to be upheld.

Baseball

Edison's baseball team, drained of much of the talent that earned a state runner-up trophy in '65, depended largely this year upon sophomores and juniors. Coach Don Phillips rebuilt the team around seniors Scott Harrington, Tim Curry, and Randy Purdy, and junior Dick Fleming. Having earned an All-City honor in '65 with both his hitting abilities and his sparkling glove-work, Harrington returned to his second base position this

Tracksters have

Edison tracksters looked forward to a good season, with many seniors and juniors returning from last year's team. Coach Pierce, who two years ago coached a state champion squad, had a hard-working group that consistently displayed the spirit and hustle of champions. It was a good year for field events, with shot men Don Brown and Sam Whitehill, high jumper George Conger, and pole vaulter Steve Weichert. Returning from a successful cross-country season, Steve Quinn and Steve Goad were a valuable asset on the track. Many more sophomores made the varsity this year than in past years, and were a welcome addition to supplement the total efforts of the upperclassmen.

Golf, tennis

Edison golfers were rated among the state's top teams this year. Seniors Jak Osborn, who recently returned to Edison from Dallas, and Kirk VanValkenburgh and Jerry Bookman, played an important part in leading a team largely composed of juniors and sophomores. The seniors were hard pressed by returning juniors Larson, Friedman, and Benson to keep their places. Coach Joe Kiger, in his first year at Edison, was fortunate in having such a team, continually improving because of this keen intra-squad competition. The excellence of this year's team was magnified by the fact that only a few were lost at graduation, leaving a core of veterans to return next year.

earn success.

Although this year's tennis team returned few lettermen from last year, Coach Dennis Dutsch, in his first year of coaching at his alma mater, was able to build quite a team from the material he had on hand. Senior John Geder, who consistently played good tennis last year, was back to lead the Eagles, along with junior Larry Simmons. Big things were also expected from sophomore Bill Martin in his first year on the Edison courts. Three more seniors, Steve Rodolf, Richard Schermerhorn, and Sweden's own Ulric Willers, contributed greatly to the success of the team which, as a whole, enjoyed a fine season.

September royalty signify Edison spirit.

Janine Henshaw, Girl of the Month for September, has contributed much to Edison. As a sophomore, she was class treasurer, an attendant to Miss Edison, and the sweetheart of the Junior-Sophomore dance. In her junior year Janine was again attendant to Miss Edison, a member of Student Council, Junior Board member-at-large, and initiated into National Honor Society. She was elected to Girls' State, Usherettes, and was "Most Deserving Girl." During her senior year she was class treasurer and chosen to be Miss Edison IX.

Boy of the Month for September was Randy Purdy. He has been extremely active on the football, basketball, and baseball teams for three years. He also participated actively in Letter-men's Club and Student Council. Randy was nominated "Most Dependable Boy" as a sophomore. He qualified for National Honor Society and became member-at-large of Junior Board. As a senior, he was president of both his homeroom and Key Club.

October honorees reflect true loyalty.

Lucy Murray was Girl of the Month for October. She has been an honor roll student and cheerleader for three years. As a sophomore, Lucy was in Student Council and a Basketball Queen attendant. She was Junior Class Secretary and attendant to both Miss Edison and the Wrestling Queen in her junior year. While a senior, Lucy was selected to serve as Student Council Chaplain and captain of the cheerleaders. She joined Usherettes and was chosen for the honor of Key Club Sweetheart.

October's Boy of the Month was Roger Boesche. Roger was Director of the Key Club as a sophomore and a past golf letterman. During his junior year Roger was chairman of Edison Week, chairman of the Foreign Exchange Candy Sale, and chosen for Boys' State. He became "Most Likely to Succeed," runner-up in the NCTE writing contest, and Key Club Secretary. Roger was Student Council President and a member of Senior Board in his last year at Edison.

November elite personify reliable service.

Bettie Donkin, Girl of the Month for November, became a cheerleader, secretary of her sophomore class, and a member of Sophomore Board. She was accepted as a member of Thespians through her work in the sophomore play. As a junior, she was a cheerleader, Basketball Queen, in Junior Board, and in the junior play. In her senior year, Bettie participated in the senior play, Student Council, National Honor Society, Usherettes, and cheerleading as a co-captain of the squad. Bettie was honored as an attendant to Miss Edison.

November's Boy of the Month, Bill Holway, was active in boards and Student Council through his high school years. He was president of the senior class and participated in the senior play. Bill was a member of the Inter-City Student Council, a representative to the Government Youth Power Conference, and was elected Mr. Edison VI.

December selections embody devoted participation.

In December, Jeanne Heuser was elected Girl of the Month. In her sophomore and senior years Jeanne was a State Student Council delegate. As a junior, Jeanne became social chairman of Student Council, chairman of Teacher Appreciation Day, and Swimettes Secretary. Jeanne became treasurer of Student Council as a senior. In her busy schedule, she found time for National Honor Society, Inter-City Student Council, Pep Club, and Usherettes.

Kirk VanValkenburgh was December's Boy of the Month. As a sophomore, Kirk was a delegate to the Inter-City Student Council and student director of the sophomore play. Kirk was chairman of the Constitution Revisions Committee as a junior. Kirk was active in Student Council and various boards in high school. In his senior year, Kirk became Student Council Vice-President, Key Club Secretary, and Inter-City Student Council Vice-President.

January's Boy and Girl exhibit Edison versatility.

Greta Minsky was Girl of the Month for January. She was a member of Thespians for three years and treasurer as a junior. She won roles in the sophomore, junior, senior and Thespian plays. Greta worked on the Eyrie first as a member, then assistant editor and finally as editor-in-chief. Serving Edison again, Greta was a member-at-large of Student Council in her junior year and secretary the next year. She was elected "Most Likely to Succeed" after being nominated in her two previous years. In her senior year Greta was a National Merit Finalist and served in Usherettes.

John Danner was elected Boy of the Month for January. He was a member of Student Council for three years, Sophomore Board and Junior Board. John was nominated "Most Likely to Succeed" and "Most Polite" and elected "Most Polite" respectively. He held the positions of Key Club Sergeant-at-Arms, editor of Noside Times, and Governor of Boys' State. John belonged to the Letterman's Club and was active in athletics. He was in National Honor Society and a National Merit Finalist.

February majesties represent talent.

Sandra Vale, February's Girl of the Month, displayed her extreme enthusiasm through her three years of high school. As a sophomore, she was initiated into Thespians after her performance in the sophomore play. Sandra served as president of her homeroom and on class boards in her sophomore and junior years. She also became a member of Latin Club and Pep Club. In her senior year, she participated in the senior play and was elected "Most Talented." She served her class as its vice-president and became a member of Senior Board.

February's Boy of the Month was Danny Hoar. Danny was a member of Student Council as a sophomore and was chosen to be the sophomore nominee for "Most Polite." Danny played baseball as a sophomore and football for three years. He was a member of Junior Board and was the junior nominee for "Most Deserving." Danny was on the Honor Roll and a member of National Honor Society. He also participated in Lettermen's Club and Key Club.

Senior officers and Cherished memories will long remain with the seniors of 1966 as they recall their outstanding educational opportunities, their many civic and cultural undertakings, and the friendship which bound them together.

Leadership was the keynote of the class, as it led all local high shools in scholastic achievement with its fourteen National Merit Semi-Finalists. Contributing 12,000 cans to the Salvation Army, seniors piloted the collection to record-setting proportions. In true Yuletide spirit, the class celebrated Christmas by donating gifts to indigent families. The play, Liliom, was an outstanding success and a tribute to the co-operation and teamwork of the members of the class of 1966.

Through participation in both class and all-school functions, members of the junior class developed greater unity and a deeper feeling of loyalty for their school. With Bill Strong as chairman of the canned goods drive, the juniors contributed over 10,000 cans in support of a record collection. The class gave full support to The Diary of Anne Frank, a truly significant production. The Junior Breakfast and the Valentine's Dance were just two events that added to their unity and good times.

The leadership abilities of the officers, Keith Roller, president; Bill Strong, vice-president; Mary Kay Haden, secretary; Ann Heller, treasurer; and Rosie Bumpass, social chairman, and the dedication of the members of their class allowed them to meet and surpass the goals set by Mr. Butts, the junior class sponsor. Their past accomplishments together with their present achievements promise a truly rewarding senior year for the class of 1967.

Officers lead the class with an amazing amount of dignity and ability.

Class officers meet in the summer to discuss the coming year.

Mrs. Zachariae, sophomore class sponsor, contemplates sophomore activities.

When a sophomore becomes a member of the senior high, he enters a world in which he must make a place for both himself and his class. Once familiar with their new surroundings, the sophomores promptly took their place in school activities by defeating the seniors and juniors in the annual foreign exchange candy sale. Although they did not again shame their upperclassmen, they did show unexpected strength in the Salvation Army canned goods drive. The sophomore mixer was another feather in the 10th grade cap. The officers and their sponsor, Mrs. Zachariae, were able to promote the most successful sophomore mixer in Edison's history.

The class of 1968 truly has the potential to become another class of which Edison can be proud. With such great potential, they should soon realize the goals they have set.

Enthusiastic sophomores bolster school spirit.

Donna Sanders and Cathy Heller discuss a class project.

Freshman officers are Scott Beaty, president; Karann Steward, vice-president; Katy Martin, secretary; and Craig Lubin, treasurer.

What has happened, Craig? A deficit in the treasury?

Qualified officers lead

The freshmen began to prepare themselves for the rigors of the senior high by functioning as a single unit in their annual dance and play. Very often the genuinely interested students of a class begin to emerge as leaders in their ninth grade year. It is their enthusiasm and energy in these early functions which eventually unites the class and determines its success.

Superior males submit unwillingly to the aid of their female co-workers.

Eighth grade officers are David Chatenever, president; Kris Francy, secretary; Melanie Wenger, vice-president; Kris Ihrig, treasurer.

Though outnumbered three to one, David always manages to keep his head above water.

Eighth graders

Eighth graders were very active this year, both in planning class projects and in supporting other school activities. They participated in the homeroom decorating contest, took part in assemblies, and co-operated with the freshman class in making their annual dance a success. At the assembly for new students, they set up a special booth for eighth graders new to Edison. The eighth grade officers worked diligently to plan and coordinate class activities.

Exuberant officers generate enthusiasm.

Seventh grade

This year, the seventh grade was run by a board made up of homeroom presidents, rather than elected officers, allowing a greater number of students to participate in school government.

Mrs. White, seventh grade sponsor, was friend and advisor to the students during their first year at Edison. In their first year, the seventh graders became adjusted to the floating schedule, the labyrinth of halls, and to their new teachers and classmates.

Greg Boyd, chairman of the board, helped plan the many activities which were scheduled and carried out by the seventh grade class.

Zoe White, 7th grade sponsor, takes time out from her busy schedule for a cup of coffee.

The seventh grade board convenes informally to conduct class business.

Let my flame burn more and more brightly for all to take notice. And through the loyalty of my students, let me burst into a raging blaze, never to be conquered except by total defeat, which I know shall not come to me.

HAIL TO EDISON!

Hail! Hail to Edison!
Our famous Edison, the best
Hail! Hail to Edison!
No one but Edison will meet the test
Our school will carry through
To Green and White we will be true
Hail! Hail to Edison!
We pledge our loyalty to you.

Hail to the Green and White!
A blaze of mighty light you'll see
Long will our pep and fight
A burst of dynamite reign free
We'll take away the game
Another for the Hall of Fame
We'll light up Edison
And glorify her name.

ALMA MATER

We raise as one our voices
Your praises true to sing.
Each loyal heart rejoices
As echoes loudly ring
Through the halls we know and cherish,
Through the halls that to us mean
That our love will never perish
For the White and for the Green.

The Torch we leave behind us
As we bid these walls farewell,
Its flames of truth remind us
Of the things that we must tell
To the classes coming after,
Of pleasures yet unseen,
When they find their joy and laughter
With the White and with the Green.

As the years pass quickly by us
In our hearts naught can surpass
Our Alma Mater nigh us
And we'll drink a toast at last
To our Wisdom, Faith and Learning,
To the Eagle's might supreme,
To the Torch of Truth still burning,
To the White and to the Green.

I really enjoyed taking your money this year in Trend. One of these days you'll learn not to gamble with your superiors. Good luck next yea.

Pete Dooley '67

To a guy that never knows whats goin on, especially in stagecraft. (wallfly) See ya around.

Bruce

Its been fun this year and I hope you are in some of my classes next year

Mike: Good Luck in the future See you next yeai

Phil Camden 67.

Mike, although I don't know you too well you're a good kid. Stay out of trouble as horrible. Hope to be in your class next year.

Ronnie Johnson

Mike,
Its been a lot of fun this year
You're a great guy
Good Luck

Mike:
Jolly Rogers was really a ___ in teaching algebra. What a gas that class was. We've been friends for a long time, even longer I hope. Take it easy, Mike.
